Emily Compton

$\text{♩} = 100$  VAMP

5 rit. . . . . .

9 A tempo

13 "...and it shall be wondrous." *

Performance notes

Wherever you are in the phrase, on the line: "My decent guest, you have scurvy" slide up and stop playing, as though this news has both shocked and disgusted your thoughts and your playing.

When you see fit, carry on playing again.

\ On the line "and it shall be wondrous," and when Juliet and Thompson have left the stage, end the piece at the end of the phrase (replacing bar 15 with bar 7 if they happen to do this when you restart).*
